A SYMBOL OF HEALTH

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfills its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv. d&w

Obedient Man.

The other morning one of the regular patrons boarded the car at the usual place, but instead of taking a seat he started to walk back and forth in the car. There were plenty of seats and the action of the regular patron attracted the attention of one of his business associates.

"What's the matter, Dan? Why don't you take a seat?" he was asked. "Serving two masters!" came back he reply. "You see, when I started out this morning my mother-in-law reminded me that it was such a fine morning that I should walk to the office. Wife, more considerate of my well-being, told me to ride. I am trying to obey them both so that when I get home this evening from the office I can truthfully say that I won't owe to lie to either of them." And the regular patron kept on walking back and forth.—Columbus Dispatch.

Use for the New Baby.

A New Englander who is a great angler and whose fish stories are listened to most attentively by his eight-year-old son, recently became a father for the fifth time, another boy being brought by the stork.

The eight-year-old was told of the arrival of this new brother, and he was very curious to see him. The father took the first opportunity to gratify the lad's curiosity. The kid gazed at the bit of red humanity for quite a while, and then, with great gravity, he looked into his father's face and said: "Dad, he'd make a first-rate bait, wouldn't he?"—Harper's Magazine.

So a Woman Says.

"It's a good thing," remarked the suffragette, "that men are not in a position to read their obituaries in advance." "Because why?" queried the old bachelor. "Otherwise," answered the female of the species, "the majority of them would be unable to get hats large enough."

A GOOD FAMILY COUGH SYRUP

Can be made by mixing Pine-Tar, Aconite, Sugar, Hyoscyamus, Sassafras, Peppermint, Ipecac, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Capsicum Muriate Ammonia, Honey and Glycerine. It is pleasant, healing and soothing, raises the phlegm, and gives almost instant relief. For convenience of those who prefer not to fuss, it is supplied ready made in 25c bottles under name of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Can be had at your druggist. Insist on getting Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and see that the formula is on the package.—Adv. d&w
